

Mardome Rooflight Systems

At the National Domelight Company, we are committed to offering the highest quality products to our customers. That's why we choose to sell the Mardome brand. As one of the leading rooflight brands on the market, you can be assured of quality, durability and value for money when you invest in Mardome rooflights.

The Mardome rooflight collection was developed in-house by the experts at Brett Martin Daylight Systems. The company is very successful in the UK market, giving you the peace of mind that comes with buying from a well-known and well-established brand. All rooflights are covered by a comprehensive guarantee.

When you select Mardome rooflights, you will receive a product that has been carefully designed and brilliantly engineered. All Mardome rooflights are manufactured in the UK, in Brett Martin's environmental and quality-approved factories. The designs carry BBA certification.

We sell four different types of Mardome rooflight:

Mardome Trade

This rooflight is a standard specification dome unit, providing excellent insulation with a u-value of 1.8 W/m²K. It has a contemporary low profile design, available as a dome or pyramid, and a unique glazing cassette that minimises condensation. There are options for manual and powered opening.

Mardome Ultra

Dome Rooflights

The sleek and stylish design of the Mardome ultra sets it apart from other rooflights. It has an attractive aluminium frame that comes in either a silver anodised finish or a powder coated finish. Choose from a variety of opening options that provide the highest levels of security – the rooflight can only be opened using a Mardome security key.

Mardome Circular
