Creating the right arts-mosphere

Project: Midlands Arts Centre, Birmingham

Products: Powder-coated Panel Planters with Seating

Client: Fira Landscape Architects, Birmingham

Midlands Arts Centre in Birmingham has been a pioneering arts complex for over 50 years, offering a range of events and classes across the creative disciplines, with over a million people attending every year.

A cross funded ongoing renovation project recently sought to reinvigorate key areas of the site to improve the visitor experience, and the space surrounding the accessible artists studio has utilised the Woodscape bespoke panel planter and seating system to great effect.

Positioned alongside some beautiful decorative panel fencing (manufactured by Stark and Greensmith), with a practical ground surface treatment, both utilising a bird silhouette design that wonderfully reflects the soaring flights of creativity from MAC users, the deep green powder-coated planter and hardwood seating with gentle curves, creates a space that's accessible, inviting and pleasing to the eye.

“...we will benefit the artists and audiences that regularly engage with our creative programme, offering safe spaces and exemplary access for our most vulnerable visitors.”, “...placing our stakeholders at the heart of the transformative redevelopment.”
Deborah Kermode, CEO and Artistic Director of MAC
