Project: Wapping Quay, Liverpool

Products: Tooting Seats with Bespoke Planters

Client: Keppie Massie; Lee McGraw, WQRTM

A residential area in Wapping Quay, Liverpool, required some new seating to make the most of the stunning views offered to its' residents, along with some planters that would match the seating, while being fully bespoke to an unusual shape and size.

Our always popular Tooting Seats (including the Tooting Chair option) were the perfect solution, proving a reassuringly robust seat with classic stylings.

Our team then worked to produce a custom planter design that would make the most of the narrow footprint required, and tie in with the aesthetic of the Tooting Seats.

The end result is as cost-effective as it is pleasing to the eye, and is sure to be enjoyed by the residents of the area for years to come.

*Wapping Quays were looking at ways to enhance the environment on the communal colonnade for the benefit of all residents. We had to be mindful of being a Grade II listed building and part of a world heritage site. With the support and input from Woodscape we were able to find the perfect solution, that the Listed Buildings Planning team and the residents were happy with. We had great input and support from initial discussions, to design and final installation from all the team at Woodscape. Lee McGraw
